

Quotes from past Marriage Prep Weekend Retreat evaluations

It is the time away that is to be treasured. The no-interruptions to “couple-time” is wonderful, and having to discuss in a personal emotive way the pressures and stresses of married life. It will prepare us for when they come, not leave us floundering when they arrive.

I enjoyed the honesty of all the couples. It was nice to hear real people talk about real issues and how they worked through them.

We came to the retreat because it fit into our schedule, but I’m glad we came!

Thank you for reminding us that God is part of our relationship.

Love the peaceful atmosphere of the Bishop O’Connor Center.

The knowledge and real-life examples and experiences that the instructors brought to the retreat were undoubtedly the greatest strength of the program...it was such a blessing to have them share their stories of success and struggle and give advice and tips for our own marriage.
